

I have lived in Devon for 29 years and in the South Molton area for 12 of these and moved to Roachill with Bev, my wife, in November 2015. I studied at Bicton College of Agriculture in South Devon and never left the county.

I have been involved in the dairy farm supply industry for my entire career and have very much enjoyed all the challenges over the years.

I like to involve myself in many activities and believe variety is very much the spice of life. I believe I will enjoy the chance to help the community grow and prosper.

I have been involved in agriculture though employment and just enjoyment all my life and believe the countryside we live in is important and needs protecting.

Bev and I have three children that are now all grown up and finding their own way in life but when they visit Roachill they find a peaceful and lovely village to live in, again this needs protecting.

Bev and I feel we have been welcomed so warmly in to the village over the past two years I feel it is important to support and contribute what I can and to assist the community in any way.
