

Emergency Plan

Thankfully, winter 2018-19 did not serve up any “beasts from the east” which we endured during the previous winter. We did experience a brief spell of snow, but not enough to trigger the Emergency Plan, and local resources were able to cope with this. The current snow warden, John Stanbury, cleared the hill from East Knowstone up to Holy Moor Cross, allowing some visitors to “escape”, but no other emergencies required the plan to be put into action. The current Emergency Plan has had approval from the Resilience Forum, and we continue to supply the Emergency Plan pack to any new residents throughout Knowstone Parish.
